High Street 'experiment' in New Year

CHANGES to the traffic flow designed to keep vehicles out of Haverhill High Street will be put in place early next year.

Town and county councillors are backing the Experimental Traffic Regulation Order, but have expressed concerns that the plans will force a heavy traffic flow into residential areas.

Part of Camps Road is going to be changed into a one-way road, heading westbound, and part of Mill Road will be changed from one way northbound to one way southbound.

A loading bay on Mill Road is also going to be moved 7m south of its current position, and one of the street's disabled bays will be relocated to Camps Road.

Other areas affected include Swan Lane, Recreation Road and Helions Park Avenue.

Inspector Peter Ferrie, policing commander for Haverhill, said: "The Experimental Traffic Order in Camps Road has the full support of Suffolk Constabulary."

"We have been consulted at regular stages by Suffolk County Council, and have also been on site visits with them at Camps Road.

"Although it may prove to be unpopular with some people, the original idea came from the Town Council and is intended to be a first step at cutting illegal use of the High Street and also illegal parking.

"I support the experiment and am grateful that the town and county councils have worked together to try and bring a partial solution to the long running saga of illegal use of the High Street."

Will Austin, town clerk, said the public have repeatedly identified this as a "top priority for policing in Haverhill over the last two years at Safer Neighbourhoods meetings".

The order is expected to reduce traffic on the High Street by 60 per cent.

County councillors for Haverhill Anne Gower and Tony Brown, town councillor Gary Stroud and Deputy Mayor of Haverhill Cllr Maureen Byrne have all voiced worries about the effect the order will have on other traffic in the town, but have hailed it as a step in the right direction and offered their support to the plan.

Cllr Byrne said: "I do have concerns, but I think we have got to try it and see what effect it has. It will probably work, but will it then create another monster elsewhere?"

Cllr Stroud said: "There is always a

Schoolchildren help to light up the town

DEBRA FOX

PRIMARY school pupils have put their artistic skills to the test in a competition to design Christmas lights.

All seven of Haverhill's primary schools have made a contribution to the display in the town centre.

The town council launched a Creative Kids scheme across the schools, and each submitted a design for a light.

One student from each school has had their sketch made into a "simple but effective" Christmas light.

Will Austin, town clerk, said: "We are very grateful to all the schools for getting things sorted at short notice."

"The finished designs are great fun and will be put up on the lamp posts on Haverhill Market Square along with new lights decorating the trees near to St Mary's Church."

He added: "Haverhill Town Council is continuing to invest in the display and is extending it again after lighting up Queens Square in 2012."

"We feel rightly proud of the lights in the town which are a match for many larger towns and form an important part in attracting people to the centre over the Christmas period."

This year, the switch on will become part of the Family Christmas Night on December 6.

The High Street and Queen Street lights will be switched on at the start of the evening, but the Christmas tree and Market Square decorations will be switched on by pantomime leading lady Katie Bass, as Snow White.

This year's theme is Lighting Up The Town. Nick Keeble, leisure manager and event organiser, said: "We have been looking at ways to re-invigorate the evening and we are hoping that by having the lights at 6.30pm and the fireworks at 8pm more people will come down to the town earlier and stay around for longer than they have in recent years."

Charity stalls, fairground rides and street entertainers will add to the fun on the night, and the town's shops will be open for late night shopping.

Fireworks will take place on the Recreation Ground from 8pm.

The Town Council is also looking for more performers to provide entertainment throughout the evening.

If you are interested, please contact Nick Keeble on 01440 712858 or e-mail nick.keeble@haverhill-tc.gov.uk.

Board rules to keep meetings in private

A BOARD which represents public and private organisations has ruled to keep its meetings in private.

ONE Haverhill brings together resources across the area to benefit the town but since its formation in 2011 debate has been ongoing as to whether or not meetings should be open.

The group has no control over a budget, and makes no decision on public money.

Sarah Howard, chairman of the board, said: "ONE

Haverhill is important and a unique partnership for the town unlike anything else in the country.

"It works so well as we provide an early stage of informal discussions where representatives of organisations, both in the private, public and voluntary sector, can freely discuss ideas and collaboration before going back to approach their organisations formally."

"The majority vote is to keep it this way."

danger with any attempt to take traffic away from the High Street, and there could well be a danger of lorries causing traffic in narrow roads. As a town council, we want to see a traffic-free High Street."

The town council has asked for the impact on surrounding streets to be monitored and the road surfaces in surrounding roads to be improved.

Cllr Roger André, town

mayor, said the trial should discourage the use of the High Street as a through route.

He said: "The trial will need to include clear signage, at some distance from the restriction, to avoid heavy goods vehicles becoming marooned or diverted onto unsuitable, narrow routes. We hope this measure is the start of a complete solution to the management of traffic in our community and appropriate access to our facilities."

MP calls for repairs on prison's roads

CONCERNS about the condition of roads and lighting on a prison estate are being tackled by West Suffolk's MP.

Matthew Hancock met with Jeremy Wright, Minister for Prisons, to discuss the poor conditions on the Highpoint Prison estate, Stradishall.

Mr Hancock is calling for local development to pay for upgrades to the road and lighting. He's also asking for the infrastructure to be adopted by Suffolk County Council.

The Ministry of Justice's Asset Disposal Board will be discussing the case later this month.

Mr Hancock said: "I was happy to put the case to the Prisons Minister directly, because my constituents in Stradishall have had to put up with roads in a truly shocking state for too long.

CALL FOR CHANGE: MP Matthew Hancock

"I will keep pushing the Ministry of Justice to pay for the works and for the roads to be adopted by the County Council."

The roads are currently at risk of becoming unusable.

Man on burglary charge

A MAN has been remanded in custody after being charged with a string of break-ins.

Patrick Burke, 24, from the Bury St Edmunds area, has been charged with six counts of burglary and one count of criminal damage.

He was arrested on suspicion of burglary after a break-in at a Wickhambrook home on November 14.

A number of jewellery items were taken from the property in Boyden Close.

Burke, who was also charged with offences in Haverhill, Billericay and Basildon, has been remanded in custody after appearing at Magistrates' Court on November 16.

An 18-year-old woman from Basildon was also arrested on suspicion of burglary after the incident at Boyden Close on November 14.

She has been bailed until December 18, pending further enquiries.

WINNERS: Gillian and Adrian pictured celebrating their lottery win back in August 2012

Town's millionaire couple to divorce

A COUPLE who scooped the second biggest lottery prize ever have announced they are getting a divorce.

Adrian and Gillian Bayford, of Haverhill, took home £148 million after their EuroMillions win in August 2012.

A statement released on behalf of Mrs Bayford yesterday said: "Gillian Bayford confirms that her marriage to Adrian has broken down irretrievably and they have separated.

"Gillian requests that the media respect her and her children's privacy and that of their wider family at this time.

"Gillian will be giving no further comment about this matter either now or in the future."

Mr Bayford has reportedly moved out of the family home, a £6 million Georgian mansion, and moved a 10-minute drive away to a £500,000 house, with a built-in leisure complex.

He denied rumours that an affair ended their marriage.

He said: "Look, me and Gillian are getting along fine. We have separated now but we get on fine.

"We have kids and we still get along and talk to each other. We're all happy now and life goes on."

At the time of their win, Mr Bayford owned and ran a music shop on Queen Street, Haverhill, but it closed in December 2012.

Mrs Bayford worked as a healthcare assistant at Addenbrooke's.

After the win, Mrs Bayford bought a children's play centre in the town "to bring some fun back to Haverhill".

But Rascals Playbarn, which opened in May this year, was forced to close in July after Mrs Bayford reportedly had "too many commitments to give it the time it needs".

It has been taken over by mum-of-one Toni Simpkin, and now runs under the name Simmo's Playzone.

Saving starts for county council

PROPOSALS to make savings in the county council's budget are being discussed today.

Suffolk County Council needs to save £156 million over four years – the equivalent of 30 per cent of the current annual budget, excluding schools.

For 2014/15 they need to save around £38.6 million alone.

More than 20 separate proposals to make the required savings have been made.

The main ones include reviewing Children's Centre provision – which could save an estimated £1.5 million alone – and cutting the council's contingency budget, which could save £4 million.

Bringing ICT, HR, finance and public accounts services back in house, to save around £9 million, is also up for discussion.

The final budget decision will be made in February next year.

Cllr James Finch, chairman for the county council's Scrutiny Committee, said: "The role of the scrutiny committee is to hold the county council to account for its decisions.

"It is only right that we take the time to go over the details of these proposals to ensure that what is suggested best serves the people of Suffolk."

Bus service from city is leaving us out in the cold

DEBRA FOX

A MAN who travels between Haverhill and Cambridge by bus is angry that he keeps being left out in the cold.

Tim Syer, who lives in Haverhill and works in London, uses the Stagecoach route X13 every weekday – but is often left standing when it doesn't turn up.

Mr Syer, of Barlow Place, says he is only one of a dozen or more passengers dissatisfied with the service. "I'm epileptic, so I can't drive," said Mr Syer, 46.

"Unless I get a cab, the bus is the only way for me to get to the station."

The 46-year-old lodged an initial complaint with Stagecoach Cambridge on October 10, and since then the service has "only got worse".

A timetable change came into force on November 3 to give bus drivers ten more minutes to get from Haverhill to Cambridge, but Mr Syer says even since then the bus still hasn't shown up.

He said: "Two nights last week the 6pm X13 bus from Cambridge just didn't turn up. One of the drivers told me they just weren't given enough time to get from Haverhill to Drummer Street, and back again. He said they don't have enough time to stay on timetable."

The X13 service, which makes a few stops in Linton High Street and then Addenbrooke's, is given approximately 38 minutes to get from the stop opposite Sainsbury's in Haverhill to Cambridge's bus station.

The 13, which also stops in Kedington and Linton, is time-tabled to take almost an hour and a half from Dalham Place, Haverhill to Drummer Street.

There have also been problems with the 13A route.

Mr Syer said: "I know there are a lot of people who have complained – we have heard from Stagecoach that they recognise the problem and are going to do something about it but they've told us that before."

Andy Campbell, Managing Director for Stagecoach East, blamed roadworks in the centre of Cambridge for the problems.

He said: "The particular journey in question has suffered some delays. The duty was altered in November to correct this. Unfortunately since then there has been roadworks at the junction of Hills Road and Cherry Hinton Road. When these works are complete the reliability should improve to the standard expected."

Schools and church make a winning team

A PARTNERSHIP has been set up between a church and a group of schools.

The Castle Partnership Academy Trust has linked up with St Mary's Church in Haverhill and it is hoped that the new affiliation will help students and staff.

Rev Canon Ian Finn, Rector of Haverhill, has been a member of the Castle Partnership Academy Trust's Board of Directors since the start, and is full of praise for the work carried out across the academies. He said: "The importance of developing wholeness – body, mind, spirit – of the individual student is central to the Partnership's principles and is placed above purely academic excellence and school league table results.

"This, along with the high levels of pastoral care given to students and staff, is impressive, and we wish to support this ethos by our active involvement in the Partnership."

Appeal for Philippines

A COLLECTION has begun across town to provide aid to those affected by the typhoon in the Philippines.

Grandmother Lynn Lansdown, of Haverhill, has started an appeal in partnership with a local primary school to raise as much as possible to support victims of Typhoon Haiyan.

Sleeping bags and blankets have been collected so far, but there is lots more on the list.

The team are looking for clothes, baby milk, canned food, pasta and rice, bottled juice and water, towels and wash items and other items to use for shelter, such as tents and tarpulins.

Lynn said: "We're in desperate need of transport - we're collecting all of this stuff but we've got no means of getting it to the Philippines."

If you'd like to make a donation please drop it off at the New Cangle Primary School, on Chapple Drive, Haverhill.

Cash donations can also be made through the school's banking.

For more information or if you want to get involved call Lynn on 07585447305.

Festive fun starts with advent service

CELEBRATE the start of advent with a festive service.

St Mary's Christingle Service is being held on December 1 at 11am to celebrate the Christmas season.

Capt Andrew Payne said: "Christingle is a fun way to start advent and leading up to the Christmas season and is a family service of light, music and fun suitable for all ages."

"All children get to build their christingle and take it home, and get their December off to an exciting and thought provoking start."

All proceeds from the service's collection go towards the Children's Society - and their good work is highlighted with a video clip shown during the service.

The Christingle service is carried out by churches worldwide.

Bike stolen from garage in burglary

A MOUNTAIN bike has been stolen from a garage.

The theft happened on November 15 at a home in Gainsborough Road, Haverhill.

The garage door of the property was forced open and a grey Carrera Vengeance mountain bike was stolen from inside.

Police are appealing for witnesses to the burglary, which happened between 2pm and 5pm.

Anyone with information or who may have seen the incident should contact PC Matt Egan at Haverhill Police Station on 101.

You can also call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Crews tackle garage fire

A FIRE in a double garage blazed for almost four hours before crews could extinguish it.

Officers were called to a home on Bergamot Road, Haverhill, at 11.45pm on November 19.

The blaze, which started in a double garage attached to a house, began to spread to the adjoining garage of another home.

Officers split the fire into sections to stop further spread, and shortly before 2.30am the fire in sector 1 was extinguished.

A car was removed from sector 2 to enable crews to fight a smaller fire.

The incident was brought under control shortly before 3.30am on November 20.

Crews from Haverhill and a fire engine from Clare were at the scene.

It is not thought to be suspicious, but a fire investigation is being carried out to confirm the cause.

Now a buyer is wanted to restore old cottages

HISTORIC cottages could be restored to their former glory - if a buyer enters a bid in time.

Two clay lump cottages, on 85 and 87 High Street, Haverhill, were recently saved from demolition to make way for flats.

Now, Havebury Housing Partnership is urging interested parties to come forward and buy the cottages in order to restore them.

The housing provider expressed an interest in retaining "heritage features" of the cottages in the proposed flats, but said they would not be able to restore them because the cost is too high. Havebury revealed that they would be willing to sell the cottages or the whole site on to keep the houses as part of the town's history.

Karen Mayhew, Chief Executive at Havebury, said: "Havebury is committed to providing much needed affordable homes and purchased the cottages to redevelop the site by building six new homes to complement its existing office and flats in Haverhill High Street."

"As part of the planning process a structural survey of the existing cottages indicated that they are in very poor condition and cannot be repaired at reasonable cost to convert into affordable homes.

"However in response to concerns relating to the loss of these cottages, Havebury has offered the opportunity to both Haverhill Town Council and St Edmundsbury Borough Council to acquire the cottages for the community."

Will Austin, town clerk, explained that the town council cannot afford to take on the cottages as they are currently trying to carry out the work of Haverhill's community budget.

The town council is securing a lease on the old magistrates' court and police station to transform into a youth hub.

He said: "The town council does want to see the cottages saved, but it's not possible for us to provide funding for the project. We can offer our support."

A decision needs to be made soon as the cottage site benefits from government funding to enable completion of affordable housing by March 2015.

Big smiles from top slimmers!

DEDICATED slimmers are ready to let their hair down for the festive season after being crowned this year's Miss Slinky.

The award, given out by Slimming World groups across the UK, celebrates those members with the extra wow factor – and those who have inspired their group fellows with their startling transformation inside and out.

Women from Haverhill's groups, held on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at The New Croft on Chalkstone Way, will be donning their slinkiest party outfits in honour of their new figures.

Tuesday members Sarah Dicken, Lisa Dennison and Sarah Knight celebrated a joint loss of 7 stones while four women from Wednesday groups lost a combined 13 stones 9lbs.

Tania Watson, Slimming World Consultant, said: "I think all of the women have done extremely well.

"It's difficult sometimes to find that time for yourself when you're busy working and everyone else seems to have priority on your time.

"To find the time to come to group and have that hour for yourself is amazing."

Jo Johnson, who also made it to the Woman of the Year finals for the district, lost 4 stones 7lbs, and Rebecca Pilbrow, who was nominated for Woman of the Year, lost 3 stones 8.5lbs.

Mum-of-three Sophie Bennett, who works as a nurse at Addenbrooke's, has lost 2 stones 13lbs and bride-to-be Cheryl Hunsdon has lost 2 stones 4lbs so far.

Nominated by their fellow members, each woman was shocked to learn they had inspired others in their group to make a change too.

Tania said: "Watching these ladies grow in confidence and work hard makes doing this job an absolute pleasure.

"Hearing their excitement when they're buying clothes that are two or three sizes too big is amazing."

Jo, of Exeter Court, Haverhill, can't wait to try on things she would never have thought of buying before.

She said: "Last year I didn't care what I wore – I didn't feel like I looked good in anything. Now I can't wait to go shopping."

"This will be the first year in about 10 years that my new year's resolution hasn't been to lose weight."

Sophie Bennett, 32, said: "For the first time in the whole of my adult life I am at a healthy weight."

RESIDENTS are being urged to get service smart, and ensure they know where to go if they're unwell this winter.

Pharmacy opening times and locations, information about when to use NHS 111, and advice on repeat prescriptions can help you stay happy and healthy throughout the colder months.

Dr Jon Ferdinand, a local GP and a member of the Governing Body of the NHS West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group said:

"Prepare yourself and your family so you can keep healthy over the winter season.

"There are a number of options available to get the most appropriate treatment in the right place and at the right time.

"I would urge people in Haverhill to take a few moments to consider the healthcare options available to them, so that should the unexpected happen, you can make the right healthcare choice." If you have a non-emergency question about your, or a family member's health you can call 111 24 hours a day to be connected to trained advisers based in Suffolk.

Keeping elderly and their pets together

THE Cinnamon Trust operates throughout the whole of the UK and we do operate in your area. We are the only specialist national charity that works with the elderly and terminally ill people and their pets to protect the treasured relationship between them and try to keep them together for as long as possible. We do this by tasking a network of approximately 15,000 volunteers nationwide to assist with the practical day to day care of pets, for example by walking dogs, helping with transport, feeding, grooming, medication etc. The trust also provides short term foster care for pets whose owners face a spell in hospital, and offers peace of mind by giving people the opportunity to make prior arrangements for the care of beloved companions should they outlive their owners. There is also advice available for people going into residential care, and the trust produces a guide to Pet Friendly Care Homes. We offer a lifeline that enables pet owners to continue to benefit from the special relationship they enjoy with their beloved companions, the pets themselves receive the care and attention that they need. Anyone wishing to talk to the trust about how we could support them should contact our headquarters in Hayle, Cornwall, by calling 01736 757900.

Anyone wishing to volunteer will need to register with the Trust and they can do this either by going to the Cinnamon Trust Website www.cinnamon.org.uk and downloading the volunteer registration form, or by phoning headquarters on 01736 758705 or emailing volunteer@cinnamon.org.uk. There is a map on the website highlighting areas where we are currently running appeals.

Please back my calls

I AM writing to your readers to encourage them to support a campaign to change the law on child neglect. My name is Tina Renton, and I unfortunately know the devastating effects neglect can have on children. I was six years old when the abuse started at the hands of my stepfather. I endured years of neglect, feeling worthless and alone. The system failed me and so did my family. I thought I wasn't special enough to be loved by my mum or anyone else. That is why I am supporting Action for Children to update the 80-year-old law on child neglect. The current law on child neglect doesn't cover emotional neglect, which can be hugely damaging. And the criminal law creates confusion and stops police officers and social workers from working together to protect children. Child neglect should be a priority for everyone, which is why I am asking people to contact their MP to sign a joint letter, backing this campaign to prevent child neglect. To find out how to do this, readers can visit www.actionforchildren.org.uk/changeneglectlaw for more information.

Help us stop bullying

THIS Anti-Bullying Week, we're stepping up our campaign to highlight how many people living with autism have had to endure bullying and hate crime. 63% of young people with autism told us that they have been bullied at school, while 65% of respondents to a recent NAS hate crime survey said they had experienced hate crime more than 10 times. These findings reveal that an alarming number of people living with autism in the UK have been subjected to the worst kind of behaviour and that as a society we are failing some of those who need the most compassion and support. Bullying anyone, particularly those who are vulnerable is unacceptable and has no place in modern Britain. I hope that we can all work together to make it stop.

Saving the trees

I WOULD like to ask readers to help save the UK's equivalent of a rainforest from being lost forever and to protect its unique species from extinction, by voting for Trees for Life in the Big Lottery and ITV People's Millions contest on Thursday 28 November. Our award-winning conservation charity is restoring the ancient Caledonian Forest in the Scottish Highlands, for our children and grandchildren to enjoy. We have been shortlisted in the People's Millions to win £50,000 of Big Lottery funding for a pioneering training programme at Dundreggan Conservation Estate near Loch Ness – where every year hundreds of volunteers from across Britain will be able to learn how to restore native forests and transform their lives through close connections with Nature. Voting is by telephone on 28 November.

The number to call will be announced on the day, including on our website www.treesforlife.org.uk. Up to 10 calls can be made from each phone at a cost of 11p from a landline. Please make a lasting difference to Britain's wonderful wildlife and wild places, and vote for us! Alan Watson Featherstone

One student's legacy

A CREATIVE pupil is being given the chance to leave a historical stamp on his or her home town.

Students from Castle Manor Academy have been invited to take part in a road naming competition for Haverhill Research Park.

The school has teamed up with Carisbrooke Developments, the developer of the research park, to organise a competition to come up with the best name for the main estate road.

DEBRA FOX

Nic Rumsey, of Carisbrooke, said: "It is interesting to consider why roads are given particular names which might be for historical, geographical or some other reason."

Participating pupils are being asked to give a creative explanation on their chosen name in a short essay.

Once the winner is decided, the name will be permanently adopted and registered with the post office.

Mr Rumsey added: "We hope the pupils at Castle Manor will find this a stimulating project and look forward to judging the final shortlist."

A shortlist will be drawn up towards the end of the autumn term.

The entrants will be judged by a panel drawn from the local community, and the winner will get the chance to unveil the road sign early in the new year.

Matthew Gibson, head of Castle Manor School, is delighted that the school is involved in the naming.

He said: "We are grateful to Carisbrooke for involving Castle Manor Academy in the project and consider it a good opportunity for the pupils to reflect on the way that human beings put their own stamp on our towns and cities."

FLATTENED: The allotment sheds which were home to two men

Homeless strategy welcomed

A STRICT new policy has been put in place for dealing with homeless people after a Polish man was left sleeping in an allotment for five months.

The allotment, on Duddery Hill, Haverhill, also became home to a Portuguese national who had nowhere else to go.

PCSO Lorna Chapman led the effort to get the men off the streets, but had little success in communicating with St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

Now, Haverhill has been given its own dedicated housing officer to be the direct contact for any further issues.

Will Austin, town clerk, said: "It's something we've never had before - she will be the first port of call for any problems involving someone who finds themselves homeless."

The housing officer will be based at Haverhill's borough council office, on Lower Downs Slade, every Tuesday and Thursday. An officer specifically for homeless people has also been appointed.

Cllr Anne Gower, St Edmundsbury Borough Council Cabinet member for Housing, said the re-structure had given housing and homeless officers specific areas to cover, so they can "take a more proactive approach in helping residents with their housing problems".

Mr Austin said: "It's a very positive outcome from a very disappointing set of circumstances."

PCSO Chapman has hailed the change as "the best thing to come out of this situation".

She said: "It was difficult to figure out what we were meant to do first, or who we were meant to go to - but at least I now know what to do... and we know the council can help when we have a homeless person on our hands".

The two men who were living in the allotments were put into accommodation shortly after the sheds they slept in were damaged by vandals.

Wisdom Toothbrushes, who own the allotments, pledged to clear the area to get rid of its bad reputation and deter further crime.

The sheds have been flattened and overgrown brambles and bushes will be cut back to make the area more visible to police and residents living nearby.

Library survey launch

A CUSTOMER survey has been launched to find out what people think of their library. Facilities across Suffolk are asking people to participate in the online questions to rate the services of their local library. Sanphra Willmott, manager at Haverhill Library, said: "As well as seeking the views of our regular customers it's important for us to hear the views of people who don't use the library service."

Mr Roy Brazier, Chairman of the Haverhill History Society, with two ambassadors; Isabel Willson and Adam Evans.

History society donates books to Samuel Ward students

STUDENTS are getting a local history education.

Haverhill History Society has donated some reference books to Samuel Ward Academy.

Roy Brazier, Chair of the society, presented the books to student ambassadors Isabel Willson and Adam Evans, both in year 7.

Angela Lane, Learning Resources Coordinator said: "As Haverhill is a constantly evolving area the insight these books can give us and our students will give us all a greater understanding on how our town began and developed into the place it is today."

"These books will make a wonderful addition to our resources."

Taking care of town's health plan

PATIENTS, family carers and members of the public are working together to combat health needs.

Concerns and questions about health services in Haverhill were addressed by the community engagement group (CEG) of West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG).

Holding their regular public meeting in the town gave members of the community a chance to find out what the group does and ask questions about their own service.

Jo Finn is a lay member in the CEG, leading on patient and public engagement.

She said: "It was Haverhill's chance to have a say, and a lovely opportunity for us to meet some people in the town."

The CEG, which works with the CCG to ensure public views are listened to, has been choosing different locations across West Suffolk to stage their meetings to give all residents the chance to have a say.

The meeting in Haverhill took place on November 11 at the Arts Centre.

Miss Finn has praised residents in the town for taking such an active interest in the town's health service.

She said: "Haverhill has been very constructive and we have got a good relationship with the town."

"We have had the chance to learn what people are asking for, and check what they are saying is what they mean."

West Suffolk CCG recently released a Haverhill Health Guide in partnership with the town council and ONE Haverhill in response to residents asking for more information about local services. The guide will be distributed to GP practices, dentists and other public places.

'Crash left me in coma - but now I am a mum'

HAPPY FAMILY: Iona and Zahoor with baby Zarah at home.

Picture: Richard Paterson

IONA Barclay is the epitome of a doting new mum. Cradling her beautiful daughter Zarah in her arms and showering her with kisses, the 28-year-old from Kentford, near Newmarket, glows with health and happiness. It's quite remarkable to think that, just a short time ago, a near-fatal car crash had left the vivacious lady sitting in front of me with no memory, and unable to walk or talk.

In those darkest of days, Iona – who is the niece by marriage of Andrew Lloyd-Webber – feared she would never recover, let alone be able to start a family, but the 28-year-old has defied the odds to do both.

"I've always been a 'get up and get on with it' kind of girl, and although at times I didn't think I was going anywhere, you just have to keep trying. "If you put your mind to it, you will always get there in the end," she smiles.

Iona's story began in 2006 when she was getting set to embark on a trip of a lifetime with some of her closest friends.

Fresh out of university, and eager to see the world, the talented horsewoman had signed up to the Student Gumball Rally – a 1,500-mile road adventure from the UK to Eastern Europe.

But what was meant to be a dream trip turned into a nightmare for Iona when the car she was travelling in was involved in a horrific crash in Croatia. They were just hours

A devastating car crash left Iona Barclay on the brink of death and facing an uncertain future. But, seven years later, the 28-year-old has made a remarkable recovery, and is more determined than ever to make every day count. Here, she talks to Lydia Fallon from the finish.

Although she doesn't recall anything about the crash, Iona was later told the car was hit by oncoming traffic and she took the full force of the impact.

She broke her jaw, cheekbone and hip, and sustained a life-threatening head injury, spending two months in a coma.

"I was the only one who was properly injured," she explains. "When the driver got out of the car and saw what happened to me apparently she fainted because of the state I was in – I was really in quite a messy state at the time.

"I think the wheel of the car actually went across my pelvis and ripped the roof of our vehicle."

Critically-injured, Iona was rushed to a hospital in the Croatian capital Zagreb, and it was there she spent more than eight weeks in a coma.

"It was too dangerous to fly me home; they knew it would kill me if they did.

"My parents flew out as soon as they found out, they didn't even pack, they just got in the car and drove to the airport," Iona says.

"It was really devastating for them. I was in a different country, they couldn't get to me and the hospital couldn't even tell them if I was going to survive or not; they would just say 'If she's lucky'.

"They believed I had a 1 per cent chance of survival which was terrifying for my family."

The odds were well and truly stacked against her, but miraculously Iona did wake up and was transferred to Addenbrooke's Hospital to begin yet another battle; to learn to walk and talk again.

It was an incredibly tough few months, but Iona has a steely determination running through her, and there was never any question she wouldn't succeed.

"It was really hard work but if I want something I get it, end of story. I just tried to stay positive and had the attitude whatever happens, happens.

"However rubbish it looked – and at times it did look pretty rubbish – and even if it's a real hard slog, you just have to keep working."

Did she ever let herself think 'Why me?' "At times you feel like that but it has to pass because there are never any answers.

"Life can be really hard but there are always people worse off than you in the world," Iona says.

"I've never been the kind of person to have regrets," she adds. "When stuff happens you get up, shake yourself off and get on with it. There's no point sitting there moaning 'Why did this happen to me?' That's not going to change it."

Her unwavering positivity seemed to pay off. Slowly but surely Iona started to make steady progress and she was eventually allowed to continue her recovery at home with her family.

How did it feel when she could finally leave the hospital? "It was such a relief," she smiles. "But the only thing was it meant I had to get back in a car for the first time since the accident."

"I started being violently sick and doctors said it was subconscious fear. I didn't have any actual recollection of the crash but my body still did."

And there were many more obstacles Iona had to face as she tried to get her life back on track.

Unable to remember anything from the previous two years – "It felt like I fell asleep in 2005 and woke up in 2007," she says – Iona had to retrain, get to know the many friends she'd forgotten all over again, and perhaps most devastating of all, deal with the news that she may have to give up horse riding, one of her biggest passions.

Luckily, a certain someone was there to help her through. "I'd been friends with Zahoor a long time; we met at a stables where we were both working," says Iona.

"We started a relationship about four years after the crash when I moved back to Newmarket, and he has been amazing."

"I didn't remember Newmarket when I moved back there, and I didn't really remember any of the people."

"But Zahoor was amazing with me; he was really supportive and helpful. When I was like 'Oh my God,' he would just tell me that everything was going to be OK."

Zahoor – who is a work rider for John Gosden – and Iona are now engaged and proud parents to Zarah, a daughter the couple never thought they would be able to have.

"The doctors told me I would struggle to conceive, and might not even be able to hold a baby. But you know what? I've done it," Iona smiles, squeezing Zarah's hand.

"I wasn't sure if I would be able to have a natural birth with her – we didn't know if my heart would be able to cope because my body has taken a fair old battering – but I did."

She adds: "Before the crash I hadn't really been in to having kids, but since then I just really wanted to kind of give something back; I know I can give everything to her."

Now fully recovered, I wonder what advice Iona would give to others recovering from a brain injury?

"I would say take the advice of your family. My family have been amazing and really stuck by me."

"At times I thought they were wrong and that I knew better, but sometimes you have to take a step back, think OK I had a bump, but they had to sit through it all which must have been living hell for them."

"I'll never stop being sorry that my family had to go through that."

Iona adds: "And never stop trying because it nearly always comes good in the end. I have a beautiful daughter and an amazing husband-to-be. I'm very, very lucky."

DRESS UP: Pupils from Kedington Primary Academy dressed up as toys for Pudsey's toy box.

You wore spots and raised lots!

PUDSEY fever swept across a Haverhill pre-school with children putting their best paw forward to raise lots.

Little Wonders Pre-School Parkway, on School Lane, invited children to wear something spotty or come in wearing pyjamas for the day to raise money for Children in Need.

The little fundraisers paid a donation to dress up, and spent the morning making Pudsey biscuits for an afternoon tea party with parents and friends.

Kellie Nunn, administrator at the pre-school, and the rest of the Little Wonders team also invited parents to take part in a song scratch card game for the chance to win a prize.

Mrs Nunn said: "It was great – all of the children came in dressed up and made a donation."

Pupils from Kedington Primary Academy chose to get playful for Children in Need this year.

The school decided to put together a giant toy box for Pudsey – with the students dressing up as the toys.

More than £100 was raised for the charity campaign through inventive train, Rubix Cube, teddy and computer games costumes.

Staff at Haverhill Leisure Centre, on Ehringhausen Way, have been baking tasty treats all week to encourage customers to make a donation.

On Children in Need day, the gym staff and Explore Outdoor team tried to row the length of the English Channel and climb the equivalent of Mount Everest.

The 7.3 ft climbing wall needed to be completed 1,212 times and the public were invited to take part too.

James Purkiss, Centre Manager, said: "The Great British Bake Off is such a popular programme and we have many members of staff who are very proud of their baking skills that we thought it about time that we had a Haverhill Bake Off."

"We have supported Children in Need every year here at Haverhill Leisure Centre and it is a very popular cause with staff and customers."

Children at Stepping Stones pre-school did their bit too, with inventive, spotty outfits and dotty, delicious biscuits.

Dancing into the limelight

DANCERS showcased their best moves at a national competition. Pupils from DanceXcel Academy in Haverhill, Cambridge and Buntingford headed to Guildford last month for the ISTD Grand National Disco Freestyle Rock 'n' Roll Finals.

To gain a place in the competition, the young dancers had to qualify in events held throughout the year.

The school took home eight places after the competition, with members celebrating their results in the under 10s dance set, and the under 16s rock 'n' roll.

Teachers Rachel Glenn and Ronnie Walford said: "The standard was so high and we were very proud of all our pupils who took part."

New head for Hundon

A HEADTEACHER will take up the reins in a second school.

Vicky Hogg, head of Thurlow CEVCP Primary School will become acting headteacher at Hundon Community Primary School.

Mrs Hogg will take on the role for the upcoming spring and summer terms at Hundon, and divide her time between the two schools.

Hundon and Thurlow have previously worked together in teaching and learning, so Mrs Hogg was the obvious choice for the job and came highly recommended.

She said: "The sharing of a head teacher will allow the two

Mr McIntosh has led the village primary school for more than six years, but has decided to return to full time teaching.

A spokeswoman for Hundon Community Primary School said: "Mr McIntosh's resignation has given the school an opportunity to try out an arrangement that we may want to make permanent in the future, either with Thurlow or another school, without a long-term commitment."

60 sparkling years – and still counting

MARRIED life isn't always easy.

But this happy couple make it look like a walk in the park.

Marjorie and Charles Thomas, of Steeple Bumpstead, are celebrating 60 years of marriage today.

The pensioners met through their church in the mid-1940s, where Marjorie was a Sunday School teacher and Charles sang in the choir.

Marjorie and Charles, both from London originally, married at All Saints, Queensbury.

They planned to wed in Spring 1954, but when a room became available they decided to move things forward.

The secret to a happy marriage, Marjorie revealed, is all about give and take.

She said: "The only thing I can say is that marriage is a two person thing. You have to give and take and compromise."

"It's the best advice I can give anyone."

The couple spent time together working on pantomimes and during other church activities before Charles was called away to war.

Marjorie, 82, said: "He was called up to go away to Korea and when he came back we got together. We got married and had a couple of days away in Bournemouth."

Marjorie and Charles, 84, lived in Hadstock and Sawston before settling down in Steeple Bumpstead 27 years ago.

Marjorie said: "We're so glad we moved here – we wouldn't want to be anywhere else. We love it here, we don't know how we ever lived in London."

The couple have a daughter and son, four grandchildren and a great granddaughter.

Daughter Lynda, 58, lives in Sawston and their son Roger, 55, lives in Devon. Charles formerly worked as an electronic engineer for the British Welding Institute, and Marjorie says they both keep themselves busy.

She said: "I love my crafts, my sewing and my knitting – at the moment I'm making Christmas baubles."

"We can't go too far these days because our legs won't let us – so we amuse ourselves instead."

Marjorie's parents celebrated their own diamond wedding anniversary

CELEBRATION: Charles and Marjorie, who celebrate their diamond wedding today. They were married on November 21, 1953, below left. Marjorie's mum and dad's 60th Anniversary on 1970, below right.

Despite their success, Marjorie never thought she and Charles would make it this far.

"I never thought we'd reach our 60th," Marjorie revealed.

"People don't seem to want to get married much these days but I would recommend it to anybody; you always have your partner by your side.

"If you really love someone, then that's all you need."

The pair say they see many more years on the horizon together, and Marjorie doesn't think she'll get fed up with her beloved husband just yet.

"After all, he's very placid", she laughed.

Still a chance to quit smoking after Stoptober

SMOKERS are being given free advice to kick the habit.

Live Well Suffolk is reminding people across the county that even though the Stoptober campaign has ended, there is still time to quit.

More than 3,000 smokers took part in the challenge across Suffolk, but one in five adults in the county still smoke.

Steven Lee-Foster, Director of Live Well Suffolk, said: "Stoptober has really captured the imagination of smokers in the county this year. However, there are many more smokers that could try and quit in Suffolk and we are urging anyone who is thinking of quitting to get in touch with us to see how we can help them kick the habit for good."

Mr Foster said that quitting smoking not only helps your health, but saves your money – especially with the festive season around the corner.

The group also offers a variety of specialist stop smoking services across the county, including sessions for pregnant mums.

MP praises benefits cap

MORE than 1,700 households in the East of England have had their benefits capped.

West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock has praised the scheme to stop those on benefits earning more than workers.

Mr Hancock said: "Under 13 years of Labour a something for nothing culture was allowed to develop."

"Thanks to the Conservative's Benefit Cap, 1,759 households in the East of England are no longer able to claim more in benefits than the average family earns by going out to work."

"These figures show this Government's plan to fix the welfare system is working."

Getting ready for winter

TONNES of salt, a fleet of gritters and a team of dedicated staff are getting Suffolk's roads ready for winter. More than 2,000 community salt stores are going to be in operation across the county, to keep local people in fresh supply. Grit bins will also be topped up to the full, ready for the arrival of sub-zero temperatures. Suffolk County Council is "more than prepared".

Investigation at school after assault allegation

THIEF: The child shown entering an insecure home in the film

'Don't make it easy for thieves'

A CHILD "burglar" is the face of a new countywide campaign to encourage homeowners to stay safe. Suffolk Police are focusing on burglary prevention by highlighting how easy it is for opportunist offenders to break in to someone's home. "Don't make burglary child's play for criminals" is the message of a new film that aims to get residents to think about home security. It shows an insecure home, with keys left in sight, doors unlocked and windows open, and a child "burglar" taking the chance to steal valuable items inside. Police advise reviewing your home security by trying to look at it through a burglar's eyes.

AN INDEPENDENT school for young men with special educational needs has had its safeguarding measures criticised.

Broadlands Hall School, on Haverhill Road, Little Wratting, is currently being investigated by police after one allegation of common assault was made.

The school, which is run under the same administration as Barnardiston Hall, near Haverhill, also had an emergency inspection into their safeguarding procedures for students, who suffer from behavioural, emotional or social difficulties and autism.

Ofsted carried out the inspection without warning on October 3, and ruled that staff at the school "have not taken all of the required actions to keep students safe" and that it requires improvement.

There are currently 17 students on roll at the school aged between 11 and 19 and they all reside in the attached children's homes.

DEBRA FOX

The inspection report, by Heather Yaxley, said: "Staff do not share a common understanding of what it means to minimise risk of harm or apply procedures consistently when reporting concerns."

Staff have all had online training for child protection awareness, but Ofsted's report ruled that this is not enough to protect these particular students.

It also said that policies relating to welfare, health and safety needed to be updated to reflect current practice. Adjustments have since been made by the school to meet requirements.

Lynne Proudlock, headmistress, said: "Broadlands Hall School attaches the utmost importance to the safeguarding of children. It is for this reason that we recently referred an allegation to the necessary authorities and this is now being looked at."

Henderson's: Not just a newsagent

IN Haverhill's High Street, Henderson's Newsagents is a family-run shop that offers much more than you might expect.

Priding themselves on the traditional service and friendly welcome that they offer to all, Henderson's doesn't simply provide all the usual newspapers, tobacco and confectionery products of a standard newsagents. Its product range is impressive and extensive: and ideal for a visit as we enter the festive Christmas season.

If you're looking for an original Christmas gift for that special someone, then Henderson's has a great selection on display. With everything from latte-style coffee gift sets (with matching tray, mug and coaster) through to charming photo frames, original mobile phone holders (shaped as shoes and handbags for the shopaholic in your life!) and even wine bottle holders, you're more than likely to find that perfect present.

Their novelty frogs posed as everyone from Michael Jackson to Superman and even Marilyn Monroe always raise a smile, and they also sell a charming selection of porcelain dolls in Victorian dress: gifts that you simply just wouldn't find elsewhere. If you are (or know) a jigsaw enthusiast, then they have a wide choice of fiendish puzzles to keep both children and adults absorbed through the long winter months.

Customers love the "treasure trove" feel of the shop, its nooks and crannies stacked with a wealth of assorted goodies. They also love the good old-fashioned service on offer from the friendly staff, which gives Henderson's more the feel of a traditional "village shop" than a newsagents in a busy town like Haverhill.

Just in time for Christmas, be sure to check out their extensive range of greetings cards and stationery. Along with Christmas decorations, cake decorations and cake boards perfect to make your festive season go with a swing, they also sell advent calendars, not only the ubiquitous chocolate type, but also the increasingly rare and sought-after traditional picture versions.

With new stock arriving all the time, and with it new inspiration for presents, or simply a treat for yourself, Henderson's is well worth a visit at any time of year, but particularly in the advent season. They are based at 40, High Street, Haverhill, CB9 8AR.

that it's a struggle to cart home from the shops like coal and sacks of potatoes.

But more than just a convenience, using Moojuice's milk delivery service is also the environmentally friendly, ethical option. Rather than giving your custom to the large supermarkets, who often keep prices low at the expense of British dairy farmers, using Moojuice can help you support local providers. Your "food miles" will also be dramatically reduced, thanks to their policy of sourcing local produce wherever possible.

Add to this the fact that milk delivered in the traditional glass bottles not only keeps the

A STATESMANLIKE PERFORMANCE: Main picture, Ben Miller, and, inset, with Simon Shepherd in The Duck House which is on at the Arts Theatre

the GUIDE

Merry Miller

COMEDIANS and comedy actors are often supposed to be gloomy miserabilists when you meet them in real life but charming Ben Miller, star of The Duck House, gives the lie to this widespread belief.

It was very much the quality of the script written by TV comedy stalwarts Dan Patterson and Colin Swash that clinched it for Ben when he was approached to play the central role of Robert Houston MP.

"The piece was so funny and the timing so perfect that I had to do it," says Ben.

The Duck House, as the title suggests, takes us back to that fateful night in 2009 when the MPs' expenses scandal first broke. Robert Houston, the character played by Ben, is ostensibly a Labour MP who, fearful of being turfed out by the voters at the impending General Election, has opted to defect to the Conservatives. The Tory high command has therefore decided to send one of the party grandees to see if Robert is "squeaky clean".

There is nothing in Ben's background to suggest that this son of academic parents would decide to make his living as an actor and comedian, although Ben remembers the Miller household as being full of jokes and laughter and even when the Millers get together today much hilarity ensues. Yet Ben showed remarkable strength of character when going up to Cambridge to read Natural Sciences. Rather than heading straight for the Footlights, Ben devoted the three years of his degree course to hard study with a devotion to his academic work unusual in a future performer.

"Science is, and remains, a big passion of mine," Ben points out. "For those three years, I was totally focused on the subject. I had to get the sciences out of my system and, besides, I was very interested in what was happening in physics at the time. I don't feel in any way divided between comedy and science. For me, they are two sides of the same coin. Without wishing to sound pretentious or pseud, I honestly believe that both comedy and science share a sceptical attitude to the world. They both want to find out what is real and they both want to cut things down to size."

Chloë Hanslip

CLASSICAL BRIT Award-winning violinist Chloë Hanslip will appear with the Czech National Symphony Orchestra as part of the Cambridge News-backed Cambridge Classical Concert Series. Andrew Burton spoke to her to find out more...

What inspired you to play the violin?

I started to play the violin when I was two. I'm the youngest of four and the next one in the family was studying piano at the Academy in London and she was practicing five or six hours every day. As soon as I could walk, I would go and stand at the piano and pick out the notes of the pieces she was playing. My parents decided they didn't want another pianist in the house so they gave me a violin and took me to Suzuki violin lessons which I loved. I've never looked back!

What have been your most important influences?

Professor Zakhar Bron, with whom I studied for 10 years in Germany and wherever he happened to be; he was very nomadic. All of his students used to travel around the world. He is a massive influence on my playing. Also, Ida Haendel who is a phenomenal violinist. She's around 80-years-old but plays with such youthfulness and joy. She has incredible musicality and is a truly wonderful person as well.

What do you hope Cambridge audiences will feel when they hear you playing Bruch's Violin Concerto No. 1?

I really hope audience members get totally lost in the music, forget their daily troubles and come on a musical journey with me. It's got everything you could possibly want in a concerto. It has all the virtuosic elements you'd expect but it's also got the most emotional second movement; it's absolutely glorious. What would you say to anyone who has never been to an orchestral concert and isn't sure what to expect?

● Czech National Symphony Orchestra, Cambridge Corn Exchange, Tuesday, November 26 at 7.30pm. Tickets £26-£35 from (01223) 357851 / cornex.co.uk

I've worked with the Czech National Symphony Orchestra before and they really are fantastic musicians. Also, Petr Altrichter who is conducting this concert is absolutely phenomenal to work with so I think it's going to be a very exciting concert. So I'd say just come along, try it out and enjoy it.

Do you have any particularly amusing anecdotes from your career?

I was performing with the Tonkünstler Orchestra in Vienna with Mihail Jurovski. I was playing Britten's Violin Concerto and about two pages from the end I suddenly heard this massive crack. I had no idea what had happened but I was aware that the violin wasn't making any sound. I flung my violin at the lead violinist, grabbed his violin, carried on playing, looked down and saw the bridge of my violin lying on the stage!

Tell us about your violin.

It's a Guarneri del Gesù violin which was made in 1737 in Cremona. It's just the most extraordinary instrument. It gives me so many possibilities in terms of tone and colour. Even when playing quietly, it has the ability to carry the sound right to the back of the hall. I'm incredibly fortunate to have it; I absolutely love it.

What has been the high point of your career so far?

Recording with the London Symphony Orchestra when I was 13 and performing in the Proms for the very first time when I was 14 were two amazing points in my life and in my career but also playing for Yehudi Menuhin when I was five.

If you could transport yourself back in time to the premiere of any piece of classical music, which would it be?

The Brahms Violin Concerto on January 1st 1879 in Leipzig. It is now one of the mainstays of the violin repertoire with its luscious melodies, inherent musical depth and the dancing vivacity of the last movement, but one critic at the time declared it to be 'a concerto against the violin rather than for it'!

28, at 7.45pm, features music by the Proclaimers and boasts spectacular song and dance on the streets of Edinburgh. Starring Jane Horrocks, Peter Mullan and Jason Flemyng, ex-squaddies Davy and Ally have to relearn how to live life after coming home from serving in Afghanistan.

■ Dates for the diary include A Touch of Holly, a Buddy Holly tribute with a seasonal twist on Sunday, December 1, at 7.30pm, a Christmas Craft Fair on Friday, December 6, from 5pm to 8pm and Saturday, December 7, from 9.30am to 4pm, and the ever popular Family Christmas Concert by the Haverhill Silver Band on Sunday, December 8, at 4pm and the fab Supersonic 705 Christmas Cracker on Thursday, December 12, at 8pm.

THE HUNGER GAMES: CATCHING FIRE

certificate 12A, 2h26m

BUILDING on the robust foundations of last year's opening salvo, Catching Fire is a lean and muscular sequel which strikes a pleasing balance between brawn and brains.

Director and scriptwriters Michael Arndt and Simon Beaufoy aren't in a hurry to bludgeon us with bloodshed and savagery. Instead they invest precious time in developing sinewy emotional bonds between characters and light the fuse on civil unrest that will explode in the concluding chapter.

The film opens with resilient heroine Katniss Everdeen (Jennifer Lawrence) back in District 12, hunting alongside her beau, Gale Hawthorne (Liam Hemsworth). They steal a kiss in secret before Katniss returns to the Victors' Village to continue her fake romance with Peeta Mellark (Josh Hutcherson) for the cameras. President Snow (Donald Sutherland) is waiting for her.

"I think we'll make this whole situation a lot simpler by agreeing not to lie to each other," growls Snow, who threatens Gale's life if Katniss steps out of line.

Flanked by booze-sodden mentor Haymitch Abernathy (Woody Harrelson) and sartorially daring escort Effie Trinket (Elizabeth Banks), Katniss and Peeta tour the districts, scenting rebellion in the air.

Meanwhile, Snow recruits a new Games creator, Plutarch Heavensbee (Philip Seymour Hoffman), to stage a special anniversary tournament known as the Quarter Quell, which will pit the darlings of District 12 against former winners in the ultimate duel of death.

In the arena, Katniss and Peeta risk everything once again to keep each other alive, forging alliances with cocksure Finnick Odair (Sam Claflin) and his elderly mentor Mags (Lynn Cohen), quixotic duo Beetee (Jeffrey Wright) and Wiress (Amanda Plummer) and rabble-rousing loose cannon Johanna Mason (Jena Malone).

Running six minutes longer than the first film, Catching Fire whets the appetite for a devastating final stand. The script turns up the heat on the central love triangle to a brisk simmer, while Lawrence and Hutcherson expertly navigate their characters' conflicting emotions.

With an extra $50m in the sequel's budget, production design doesn't disappoint and costume designer Trish Summerville pulls out the stops for Effie's wacky wardrobe, including a dress festooned with monarch butterflies.

Most of the violence in the arena takes place off screen but as the cliffhanger ending of the sequel makes clear, before every storm there is a lull.

Take a deep breath . . . while you still can.

Gardening gifts galore

WHAT do you give the gardener who has everything? Perhaps a luxurious back and neck massage to ease those endless hours of digging? Or perhaps a good manicure to file away all that grime from under the nails?

Let's face it though, not many gardeners actually do have everything, a garden always needs something new – which makes finding a gift this Christmas that little bit easier.

You don't have to go big – a few pretty plant labels in, say, slate or terracotta, a selection of seeds to keep them busy in the New Year, some stationery with fruit or veg patterns or simply a new pair of secateurs to help them through spring pruning may go down well.

There's a plethora of personalised gifts for the gardener – check out www.gettingpersonal.com for a selection of calendars, diaries, crates and even shed signs that can be personalised to feature the recipient's name.

If you're looking to replace bog standard basics with more stylish ones, consider a new watering can and matching plant pots from Fallen Fruits,

by Hannah Stephenson

which offers a pretty patterned set of a can and three plant pots for £20 (www.qvcuk.com or phone 0800 50 40 30).

Burgon & Ball also has stylish new ranges of forks, trowels, kneelers and other accessories, endorsed by the Royal Horticultural Society. I particularly like the Chrysanthemum pattern, taken from the striking illustration of Chrysanthemum 'Karashishi' by the Japanese artist K Hasegawa, dating from 1891 and taken from the RHS's Lindley Library.

The trowel and fork come in a beautiful box, featuring painted handles printed with the RHS logo and an engraving of the Gertrude Jekyll quote, 'The love of gardening is a seed once sown, that never dies' on the body of the trowel. Priced £19.95, they're available from all good garden centres, RHS plant centres and www.burgonandball.com.

Gardeners who want to match their stylish new tools may want to chuck out their old wellies in favour of some natty new Kew Sprig ankle wellies from Cath Kidston. They don't just look good, they are snug too, whether on the allotment, trudging through the snow or on their way to a summer festival. Made of rubber with a cotton inner, priced £35 in sizes 4-8, for stockist details visit www.cathkidston.com.

For new vegetable gardeners Mr Fothergill's Get Growing range of seeds (£1.60 - £3.15) and kits, including herb pots (£1.49), starter collection boxes (£8.49) and mini windowsill propagator kits (£3.29) will make ideal stocking-fillers. For details go to www.mr-fothergills.co.uk.

For those who might want to attract wildlife to their garden, tell them to put the new BeeMat on their Christmas list. It's a biodegradable, pre-seeded growing mat containing mixed flower seeds which aim to attract bees, including verbena, Californian poppy and borage among other varieties, and is available to plant from spring. As well as providing colour, the mat will also suppress weeds. For stockists visit www.beemat.com or call (01476) 530374.

If you know a gardener who gets peckish while working in the garden, a selection of luxury biscuits in quirky tubes of 'Keep Calm' gardening themes may make the ideal gift. The tubes can be used to store plant labels, string and other gardening sundries long after the biscuits have been eaten (triple pack £13.99, www.thompson-morgan.com/0844 573 1818).

Gardeners who prefer to make their own produce may opt for an unusual new cheese-making kit from Suttons (www.suttons.co.uk/christmas), featuring everything you need to make fresh mozzarella and ricotta in under an hour, adding your own freshly grown herbs and spices to the cheeses. The kit has enough to make 10 batches and each batch weighs around 2lbs – that's a lot of cheese for a kit costing £19.99.

A sure-fire win for any gardener is an annual pass with the National Trust (www.nationaltrust.org.uk) to allow visitors to wallow in inspirational gardens, or an RHS membership (www.rhs.org.uk) which includes free garden visits, discounted show tickets and a monthly magazine. If they want to just increase their knowledge, opt for membership of Garden Organic (www.gardenorganic.org.uk) for access to specialist advice, reduced costs to join its Heritage Seed Library and free entry to RHS gardens.

FOLLOWING its recent glitzy London unveiling, Nissan has now released pricing and specification details for its hotly anticipated latest generation Qashqai.

When the mid-size SUV goes on sale in January prices will start from £17,595 and rise to £27,845, and buyers will have a choice of four trim levels. Nissan's engineers have also done much to improve the car's green credentials, with the result being an engine line-up spanning the 99g/km to 132g/km CO2 range.

Entry level Visia cars benefit from a generous amount of kit, including auto air-conditioning, hill start assist, cruise control and a large colour infotainment screen. Acenta-badged models gain the likes of dual-zone air-con, leather for the steering wheel and gear lever, larger alloy wheels and a tyre pressure monitoring system.

Moving up to the Acenta Premium grade adds digital radio, a rear view parking camera and sensors, a panoramic sunroof, keyless ignition and lane departure warning. The flagship Tekna models add all-round parking sensors, part leather seats, LED headlights, a seven-inch infotainment screen and 19-inch alloys.

A pair of petrol and diesel engines will be available from launch, all boasting fuel-saving stop-start technology. Diesel fans can choose between a 109bhp 1.5 unit and a 128bhp 1.6 motor. Petrol options initially run to a 1.2 113bhp motor and more powerful 148bhp 1.6 unit.

TWEENIES READY TO PLAY PC CD— Ages 3—6. Immerse your youngster in the colourful and familiar Tweenies world, brilliantly represented in sound and graphics on your PC. Everyone will love "Messy Time", with the three different print and play games, as well as instructions on how to make finger puppets, masks, badges and spinners. Then there's "Doodles Mail"—write to the Tweenies via Doodles, receive a reply, and see little faces light up. Watch favourite characters during "Telly Time", and join in the action songs in "Song Time". "News Time" will test pre-school general knowledge and Tweenies trivia, while "Playtime" encourages early gaming skills with "Catch", "Flying Rocket" (an arcade—style game) and "Snap". Then, if you're sitting comfortably, there's the old faithful, "Story Time". Clear, colourful and easy to use, the Tweenies software will appeal greatly to children from the age of three, but there's plenty to keep the five— and six—year-olds happy as well. Language development, numeracy, creativity, elementary computer skills and good old-fashioned fun are all encouraged, and the whole package is designed to support Key Stage 1 in English, Art, Maths and Information Te £5 Tel: 07973 406655

Memorable triumph for Mercer in trophy

PETER Mercer was victorious in the Memorial Trophy at Haverhill Golf Club.

In the seniors' competition which had more than 50 members part, the section captain Mercer scored 37 points in the 18-hole stableford.

The team event was won by Paul Loomes, Peter Cundall and Cyril Beebie with 102.

Nicky Weller was first in the Men's Midweek Medal with the lowest gross score of 73, nett 62, to also take Division One. Andy Fish was second with 72 and Peter Garner third with 75.

Jonathan Wiseman was the winner of Division Two with nett 67, two better than Roger Hartley. Frank Robertson was third with 70.

And Keith Whitfield triumphed in Division

Three with nett 74, beating Ian Evans and Graham Hepworth on countback.

Haverhill's head greenkeeper Glenn Norris led his team of Craig Sisson, Gerry Scott and Ryan Greenwood to victory in the Texas Scramble Anniversary Shield with nett 57.4.

Michael Goldsmith, Luke Williams, Gary Cowley and Don Simpson were second with 58.2 and Jack Bligh, Stuart King, Paul Bartlett and Mark Stanton were third with 58.9.

Haverhill's juniors took part in a medal competition and it was Louis Martin that emerged as the runaway winner.

Playing off the white tees, he scored nett 67, reducing his handicap by one, to beat Edward Halpin by 12.

Harry Proctor, who was playing off the red tees, was third with nett 81.

Paul Irons out early creases

PAUL Iron headed in the winner as West Wrattling veterans triumphed 3-2 when they took on Spanish side Oliva.

The side travelled to Denia for a rematch against their opponents after the Spanish team visited the area last year, when they took on Newmarket veterans and lost 2-1 to Wrattling.

Things were not looking good for a repeat success, however, as Oliva raced into a 2-0 lead, but Nigel Pruden reduced the arrears before half time.

Joe Freitas then levelled matters with a diving header, before Iron completed the turnaround with a header of his own from a corner.

■ Daniel Cordwell and Aiden Comer efforts saw West Wrattling under-14s through in the Cambridge & District Colts Youth League Cup with a 2-0 victory over St Neots Town Youth.

Matt Stratton got Aztecs under-13s' consolation as they went down 2-1 to Cambridge Celts in 9v9 City.

Finley Plant's brace could not help West Wrattling under-12s avoid a 5-2 defeat to Witchford Colts in the BM Kempton 9v9 Youth League.

Greygoose: No excuse for lapses

DEAN Greygoose was left frustrated by disciplinary problems and a lack of a cutting edge up front as Haverhill Rovers slipped to a 1-0 defeat away to Felixstowe & Walton in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division last Saturday.

Brothers Marc and Paul Abbott were both dismissed within minutes of each other as Haverhill finished the game with nine men.

"I've got no excuses," said Rovers boss Greygoose, who also had Luke Parkinson sent off the previous week. "Our discipline is something we talk about and we have improved a lot from last season."

"The referee spoke to me afterwards and I can see both incidents from his point of view."

Goalkeeper Jamie Greygoose made a string of fine saves to deny Felixstowe, although he was eventually beaten 15 minutes from time when home captain Ben Cranfield took advantage of some defensive slips before poking home from close range.

Stuart Kingham hit the post with a header five minutes later, but Haverhill could not force their way back into the game.

The Abbotts were sent off late in the game after being shown straight red cards for different incidents, which thwarted any hopes the visitors had of taking anything from the match.

The result leaves Rovers fifth in the Premier Division and four points behind second-placed Gorleston.

This weekend sees them face another of the sides around them when they host Mildenhall. The sides are both on 30 points, with Mildenhall above Haverhill on goal difference.

As well as hoping to avoid any more red cards, Greygoose is also keen to see his team get back to the sort of form they had shown in the previous weeks.

"One disappointing thing for me was our attacking play," he said.

"We didn't pass the ball as well as we have done on a good surface and we weren't as exciting as we have been."

Greygoose also revealed the club have applied for promotion this season in the hope that they can mount a sustained challenge.

"We've got to make sure we're in the mix," he added.

"The club applied last year as well, but I was brought in to get us promotion in three years."

"It will be great if we do it this year, but the main thing is to keep improving."

"I've always been an ambitious player, coach and manager and nothing has changed. I still want to push the club on and that's what everyone behind the scenes here wants."

Frustrated: Dean Greygoose was disappointed by two red cards and a lack of cutting edge from Rovers.

Borough down Cornard to clinch place in county cup last eight for first time

HAVERHILL Borough are through to the quarter-finals of the Suffolk Senior Cup for the first time in their history after winning 3-1 at home to Cornard.

Borough fell behind, but Gavin Taylor and Aaron Forshaw had them in front at the break. Callum Harrison sealed the win 10 minutes from time.

"We weren't at our best, but it was good enough to put us into the quarter-finals," said manager Ben Cowling.

Cornard started the better of the two teams, with Borough goalkeeper Anthony Choat forced into a number of early saves, and opened the scoring in the 16th minute when a cross from Steve Willis was headed in by Cameron Ward.

As the half-hour mark approached, Ryan Kent skipped through the visitors defence before bringing a fine save from the keeper, and from the corner, Kent's cross was headed in by Gavin Taylor at the near post.

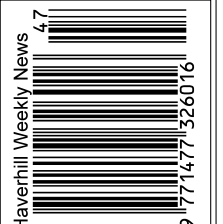

Within five minutes Borough took the lead following a sublime piece of skill from Forshaw. He collected the ball behind left-back Stuart Bryant, brought the ball back inside, depositing the defender on his backside, and then slipped the ball past the keeper to give the hosts the lead.

With 10 minutes left in the game a pass from Forshaw found Harrison on the edge of the Cornard penalty area, and his powerful shot beat the keeper low down on his right-hand side.

Attack: Ryan Weaver breaks forward against Cornard.
